

Name:	Semester and year of internship:	Office of internship:	Did your internship lead to a permanent job placement, graduate/law school, or some other opportunity?
Lilly Prince	Fall 2007	Heather Wilson	No, but they gave me really great recommendations for my current job
Marcus Romero	Fall of 06	Heather Wilson NM 1	Yes
Moanna Wright Barbour	Fall 2006	Congressman Tom Udall (now Senator)	My internship could have led to a placement in their office but, I wanted to continue on to graduate school at UNM's School of Architecture and Planning. I received my Masters in Community and Regional Planning, emphasis in Environmental Planning, and Professional Project on "The Benefits of Urban Farming." The opportunities that my internship has afforded me are immeasurable. It enhanced my success as a graduate student and polishes my resume. Since graduating in 2009 I have been mother to a, now three year old, delightful daughter. As I begin to network for career opportunities my internship is a key talking point. Many thanks to the Fred Harris Internship Program!
Kelly Seibert	Fall '07	Congressman Tom Udall	Yes. Full time job with Tom Udall for US Senate Campaign, and full time job in the office of Senator Tom Udall after graduation.
Tyler Cade	Fall 2011	Heinrich	Yes
Jordan DiMaggio	Spring 2010	Bingaman	Yes.
peter callan	fall 2011	ben ray lujan jr.	I WISH!
Laura Finley	Fall 2009	Senator Bingaman	Medical School
Vanessa Lemrond (Ringwald)	Fall 2008	Sen. Domenici	Unm School of Law
Tracy West	Spring 2007	Congresswoman Heather Wilson	Yes. I received a job offer from the President of the University of New Mexico after the internship. That job then lead me to a position with Representative Ben Ray Lujan (NM-03). Which then lead me to law school.
Chelsea Stallings	Spring 2010	Rep. Martin Heinrich	No
Dustin Taylor	Spring 2007	Tom Udall CD-3 (he was a rep at the time)	Current graduate student at Johns Hopkins, I believe my Fred Harris internship helped me get in
Hannah Wood	Spring 2009	Congressman Harry Teague	Yes. This internship has been a critical experience taken into consideration by my current graduate program, Teach for America, and my current full time job.
Michael Thorning	Fall 2011	U.S. Senator Jeff Bingaman	I permanently joined Senator Bingaman's staff immediately following the end of my internship and have been working in his office since that time. I have since been promoted and work as Legislative Correspondent and New Media Coordinator for Senator Bingaman. I will continue in his office until his retirement at the end of the 112th Congress. I hope to find another position on Capitol Hill at that time.
Joseph Dworak	Fall 2007	Steve Pearce	No. While I did end up in law school, and some credit should be placed on the presence of a Congressional internship on my resume, I do not believe that entering law school was a direct result of my internship. I had a wonderful experience with the DC program, but my office that I worked in was not helpful in assisting with any type of transition to greater opportunity. However, because of my Fred Harris experience (but not the result of the actual internship), I was asked to serve as a TA for my law school's DC Semester Program during its first semester.
Lucia Cook	Spring 2009	Senator Tom Udall	Not directly, but I did fall in love with DC which lead me to doing Teach For America in nearby Baltimore
Matt Munoz	Spring 2010	Congressman Harry Teague	This internship opened many doors for me. After I left DC, the congressman hired me in his local office. We lost our election, but now I am working in the UNM Government Relations Office. Something that would have never happened without this internship.
Elena Suffling	Spring 2007	Senator Jeff Bingaman	Yes, a job.
Angelina Gonzalez-Aller	Fall 2006	Stevan Pearce	grad school
Derek Skinner	Spring 2009	Sen. Bingaman	Yes, it led to permanent job placement following graduation, which was a year after I interned in the Senate. I'm in law school now, but I'm not sure how much of an impact my Senate experience had on my getting into law school. However, during interviews for summer associate positions for next summer, many employers were impressed by my work as an intern and, later, as a staff member of Congress.
Robert Alanis	Fall 2009	House of Representatives-Martin Heinrich (NM-01)	Yes. I'm now pursuing a Ph.D. at the University of Texas at Austin
