

John K. Wagner

University of New Mexico
Department of Political Science
(505) 363-1685 • jkwagner@unm.com

Education:

Albuquerque Academy Graduate (May 2011)

AP Credits in History, Political Science, German and Physics

College of Wooster Graduate (May 2015)

Undergraduate Major: Political Science focusing on Comparative Politics

Mathematics Courses through Multivariate Calculus I

Political Science Courses in Comparative Politics, US National Politics, and International Relations (Focus on Africa, the Middle East, Developing Countries, Latin America and Asia)

Social Science Courses covering Research Methods and Analysis

Philosophy Courses covering Western Moral and Political Thought, and Islamic Philosophy

Computer Science covering computer science theory and programming in C and C++

University of New Mexico PhD Student in Political Science (August 2015 – Present)

Statistical Courses covering bivariate and multivariate analysis and the use of statistical programs

Seminars on Comparative Politics, American Politics, Latin American Politics, Urban Politics, Political and Economic Development, and Minority Electoral Politics

Works in Preparation:

John Wagner, “The Use of Social Media as Participation Mechanisms by Municipalities: A Look at Differences Among Institutional Designs”.

John Wagner, “Developing Capabilities for Young Women: A Cross-National Analysis of Online Access”.

John Wagner, “Media and Mobilization among LGBTQIA+ Groups” (Early Working Title).

Teaching:

Teaching Assistant for POLS 110: The Political World (2015 - 2016)

Skills:

Advanced Statistical and Data Analysis using Stata and Excel

Advanced Word Processing and Publishing using LaTeX and Microsoft Word

Proficient in Programming in C and C++

Native English Speaker

Proficient in Written German

Past Work Experience:

Library Assistant working at Simms Library, Albuquerque Academy (June - July of 2009, 2010, and 2011)

Internship at Sandia National Laboratories (June-August of 2012) focusing on research into foreign states and national security threats.

Graduate Assistant for Dr. Kendra Koivu (August 2015 – Present)

Graduate Assistant for Dr. William Stanley (August 2016 – Present)

Interests/Activities:

Participated in Albuquerque Academy's Technical Theatre program as the House Manager, Lighting Technician, and Set Technician from 2007 to 2011

Was a member of Albuquerque Academy's Model United Nations Team from 2010 to 2011

Volunteered as an Audio-Visual Technician at John XXIII Catholic Church from 2009 to 2012

Attended the Stanford Model United Nations Conference 2010, the New Mexico Model United Nations Conference 2010, and the North American Invitational Model United Nations Conference 2011